כְּלָלִי

How does he feel?
Look at the illustrations together and try to trace the duck's feelings and identify them – now he's angry, now he's scared, now he's happy... Each time, stop and try to make a face and movement that mimics how the duck feels.

פְּתוּחַ מְיֻמָּנוּיוֹת

The doll misses someone
Invite the children to choose a doll that feels longing and think about how we can help it:

maybe we'll say soothing words? Maybe give it a hug? Or maybe give it a toy? Each time, someone else can speak for the doll and share what helps it.

שְׁמַע

Listen to the song

Listen to the song, and sing and dance along with the migrating birds of the Mars Dondurma band.

מְשַׂחֵק

Hot, cold, migrating

Play a game of hot-and-cold, migrating-ducks style! Each time, someone announces that winter has arrived and it's time to migrate. They'll guide the "flock of ducks" to the new warm spot they've chosen, calling out "warmer, warmer, getting warmer."
