Shmulik in the bath

While bathing in the bath, you can have fun and play like Shmulik. You can turn your hand into a duck and move your fingers like a beak, “dive” with them in the water and recreate parts of the story: “The water is cold for Shmulik, let’s say Brrr

משחק

Who's in the crate

Bring a large cardboard box or laundry basket and suggest that the toddler get into it or put a doll in it. Each time, you can discover a different limb or part of the doll, and say, “Hey, here’s a hand!”, or “I’m looking for a leg... here’s the leg!”

מִשְׁחָק

Hot Cold — Touch

Hide, each in turn, a doll or a drawing of a duck. The hider will direct the seekers with “touch-touch” sounds. How? When they move away, he will scream slowly, and when they get closer, he will increase the pace.

שִׁיחָה

"Until he calms down..."

How does Shmulik calm down? And how are you? Is there anyone or something that helps you with this? You can think together and try other ways to relax.
