Listen to the song

You can listen to the song “Threads of Rain” with the wonderful melody of Nurit Hirsch.

Drizzle-Rain-Flood-Hail

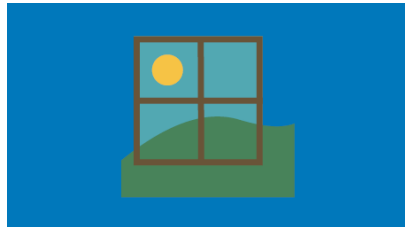

Try to mimic the sound of rain with your fingers – weak knocks for drizzles, medium for rain, and strong for floods. You can also play: each time one participant will declare: “Drizzle,” “Rain,” or “Flood,” and everyone will tap accordingly.

Bingo Trip

You can go for a walk after the rain and play “rain thread bingo” – look for as many details as possible that are mentioned in the song or appear in the illustrations, for example: grass, hills, plain, squill. You can decide that the first one to locate three individuals wins.

Make a fun rain gauge!

Cut an empty 1.5-liter plastic bottle, about the top quarter of the bottle. Turn the part with the spout and insert it into the bottle, so that a funnel is formed. Using a ruler and marker, mark measuring lines on the sides of the bottle. Place and place the bottle outside, in an open place. After the rain, you can track and see how much water has been collected in the bottle.
